The International Netball Federation (INF) are pleased to announce that there are two new International Talent Identified Umpires (ITID):

James Thomas
Nadine Pardo-Zammit

These umpires have been recognised as showing potential to gain an International Umpires' Award (IUA) and will be considered for international appointments accordingly. Congratulations and the INF wishes them well in their umpiring.

For more information in regards to international umpiring please refer to the officiating area of the INF website:

Gareth Fowler has been awarded his International Umpires' Award (IUA). Gareth was already an International Talent Identified Umpire (ITID) so many congratulations to him for progressing to gain his IUA.

Members of the OAGs due to commence in 2017 have been informed with kick off meetings due to be scheduled in Q3 and Q4 2017. These will be completed in line with the OAG Terms of Reference: <http://netball.org/inside-inf/committees-and-panels/officiating-advisory-group>

INF OAG2017-7; Commonwealth Games 2018 Umpire and Umpires Appointment Panel (UAP) Selection has been completed with nominations submitted to the Commonwealth Games Organising Committee (GOLDOC). A public announcement of those appointed is anticipated to be issued in Q4 2017. <http://netball.org/events-and-results/commonwealth-games>

COMMONWEALTH GAMES

Netball was introduced into the Commonwealth Games in 1998 and has been an integral part of the programme since. It is currently considered a 'core sport' and it's position in the games has been assured for the foreseeable future with the ratification of 'Transformation 2022 – the Strategic Plan of the Commonwealth Games Federation 2015-2022'.

The top netballing nations are all Commonwealth countries and there is a close alignment between the values of the CGF and the INF.

The next edition of the Commonwealth Games will be held in the Gold Coast, Australia from 4th – 15th April 2018.

Qualification is determined on July 1 2017

Twelve (12) Teams will be selected by INF to compete in the Netball Competition. The Competing CGA's will be:

1. The Host Nation is entitled to enter one (1) Team; and
2. The top eleven (11) CGA's in the INF world rankings, having consideration for Regional Representation. Where at least four (4) of the six CGF regions are not represented, the highest ranked CGF from a non-represented continent will be selected within these eleven (11) Teams.
