

EMBARGOED UNTIL WEDNESDAY 24TH APRIL 8AM BST

NetballPass becomes the proud home of the 2024 Elite Domestic League Season.

World Netball (WN), Netball Australia (NA), England Netball (EN) and Netball New Zealand (NNZ) are proud to make NetballPass the home of the 2024 elite domestic league season.

This means for the first time ever the three elite domestic leagues will be available globally for the netball family to watch in one place, allowing international fans around the world to tune in with ease and follow their favourite teams and international stars.

Fans have the option to buy season passes or round passes for each league, with prices starting from as little as £2.50 GBP.

With players from Jamaica, Uganda, South Africa, Trinidad & Tobago and more competing across the Suncorp Super Netball League (SSN), Netball Super League (NSL), and ANZ Premiership (ANZP) this is an opportunity not to be missed.

All three leagues are now underway with the NSL offering two matches per round, as well as the Finals on the platform, whilst the SSN and ANZP will be showcasing all the action from every round, including the Grand Finals.

Speaking on the exciting news of the leagues aggregated approach, World Netball's Head of Marketing, Digital & Broadcast, Emily Whiteside said: "We are thrilled to have been able to work with our Members, Australia, England, and New Zealand, to make their leagues all available in one place this season.

“In World Netball’s strategic plan, we set out the aim to GROW our game, and as part of this we wanted to build awareness of our sport and welcome new participants and fans, not only from our current netball nations, but also from countries beyond our Commonwealth heartland.

“Making the three top elite domestic leagues available globally, is a true example of how we can reach more people, more often.

“I know the 2024 elite domestic league season will be a great showcase for our sport and will help us and our Members increase our reach, revenue and capacity.”
