Speaking on the announcement, WN CEO Fiona Harold said: "I am thrilled that we are able to stream every match of the Netball World Youth Cup 2025 live and on demand, but most importantly for free, across both NetballPass and our YouTube channel.

"It was very important to us that we gave this next generation of players a global platform, with the largest reach possible, to showcase their talent, work ethic and personalities.

“We urge the Netball Family to get behind this event and show their support, either from afar tuning in to watch the matches live or on demand, and following the hype on social media, or by purchasing tickets to attend the matches in Gibraltar.

“This might be the first time we see many of these players take to court on the global stage, but I am sure it won’t be the last.”
